Dedication

Senior classes are all too soon forgotten when they leave the halls of Medina Senior High School to make their own diverse ways through life. Through this yearbook, we, the staff of the 1958 Medinian, hope to preserve for you seniors, to whom this book is dedicated, some of the memories you will want to take with you as you leave this school. For those of us who remain behind, we hope that this book will give inspiration to work diligently and to achieve greater successes in the future.

STANDING: Mr. Houston, Janet Good, Marlene Mathews, Ann Gilsdorf, Norm Merhaut, Susie Twigg, Dick Simmons, Mrs. Schafer

The senior council and advisors have guided the senior class to their destiny. They planned projects and activities which enabled the seniors to go to New York and to enjoy a prosperous year. They have done a wonderful job of planning the senior class projects which have been very successful. They were also in charge of name cards, announcements and caps and gowns. The seniors wish to thank President Diane Wilson, officers, council and advisors for the splendid job they did this year.

Senior Advisors

Mr. Claggett, Mrs. Hergenrader, Mrs. Schafer, Mr. Houston, Mrs. Neptune

JANICE ALLEN
Patience is a remedy for every pain.

RITA ARMBRUSTER
Worth makes the man;
and want of it, the fellow.
The rest is all but leather and prenello.

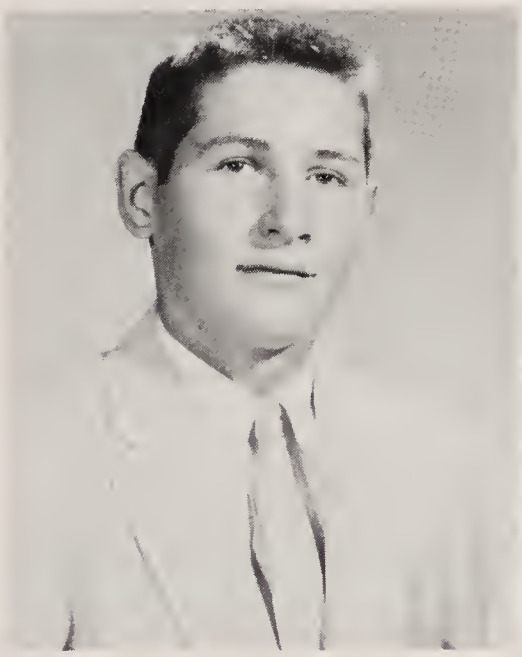
NORMAN ARTERS
Shun not the struggle;
face it.



LINTON AUBLE
Think twice before you speak once.

HYEL BAGLEY
Good sense and good nature are never separated.

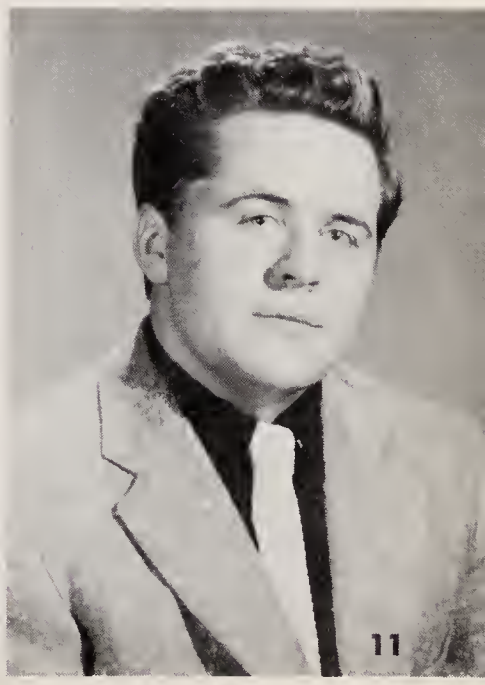
Two heads are better than one.

ED GALLATIN
d like to help you out — hich way did you come in.

FRED GERN
Many have the right aim in life, but never pull the trigger.

BRENDA GILBERT
We are born with temperament, but character we make.

LOUIS GILBERT
Never alone; always accompanied with noble thoughts.



ANN GILSDORF
Parting is such sweet sorrow.

JANET GOOD
The Golden Rule is not buried at Fort Knox. Use it every day.

NANCY GREGORY
We are born with temperament; but character we make.

SUE GREGORY
Forgive, forget, have faith, and hope.

CHRISTINA HAIGHT
Every person has a fault. Honesty is mine.

GLORIA HARTZELL
Am I really living or just passing time and occupying space.

CHARLEEN HASEK
Don't let anyone get so close to you that you can't tear them down with a smile.

COLLEEN HILL
Before you do something silly, think.

JEAN HINCKLEY
Kind words are short to speak, but their echoes are endless.

TOM HODGES
Better late than never.

TOM HOLDEN
Live every day as if it were your last.

JERRY HOFFMAN
Conceit is harder to cure than a cancer.

Be yourself.

MARY LOU MAUPIN
If it is God's will, anything can happen, good or bad.

TOM MAUPIN
Do more than talk; the team that blows the whistle doesn't turn the wheels.

DOLORES MEINCKE
metimes we have sorrow, we will be thankful for the sunshine tomorrow.

NORMAN MERHAUT
You'll never stumble over something good, while sitting down.

BETTY MILLER
You are never too old to learn.

JOHN W. MILLER
Just 'bidin' my time.

KENNETH MILLER
Live and let live.

RON MOEWE
Be nice to the furniture
you'll live in it the rest of your life.

KARL NORRIS
Things worth having are worth the asking.

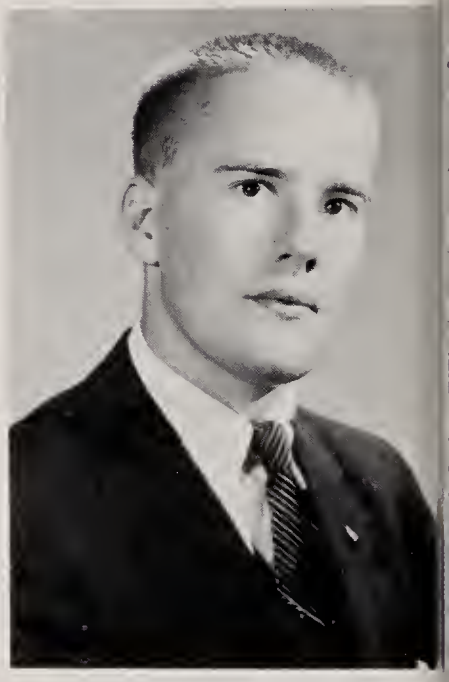
Fools give you reasons; wise men never try.



BARBARA STANDEN
If at first you don't succeed, try, try again.

LINDA TAGGART
Everything that shines is not gold.

MARY ELLEN TAKACS
Good sense and good nature are never separated.

SYLVIA TAYLOR
Faith, hope, and charity, but the greatest of these is charity.

PATRICIA THOMAS
Think twice before you speak once.

PAT TIFFNER
Good thoughts will bend an outward expression.

JUDIE TRIPP
Empty wagons make the most noise.

SUSAN TWIGG
Friendship is the root of all happiness.

BARBARA VEIRS
No man is an island, entire of itself.

BARBARA WASS
We grow wiser and stronge
by overcoming adversity.

ALICE WHITE
Great thoughts come from the heart.

TERESA WIGHTMAN
When the ships sail it's too late to get aboard.

LORETHA WILLIAMS
This is a world of rich and poor, of what we are and what we do; so give to the world the best you have,
then the best will come back to you.

DIANE WILSON
No one is poor, who has sterling character and a heart of gold.

Whenever you saw someone eating candy bars, potato chips, drinking Coke, or chewing gum, you knew that the Junior Class of MHS was making some money at the concession stand which they operated in the school lobby.

Most of the profits from this stand went toward producing one of the nicest Junior-Senior Proms Medina has ever known. The Prom held at the Mayflower Hotel in Akron, was in honor of the graduating class of MHS.

The one hundred and seventy-strong sophomore class took the senior high by storm this fall with their enthusiasm of long-awaited expectations and dreams.

Their liveliness and inspired participation has been a spark to our school. This was really evident when their beautiful float for Homecoming was started and finished first.

With all their sincere efforts to succeed, they undoubtedly will be one of the best yet.

SIDNEY M. FENN
B. S., M. A. Ohio State University

Since graduating from Ohio State University in 1916, Mr. Fenn has been affiliated with only two different school systems-Chester Township for one year, and Medina for 35 years.

He was principal of Chester, Ohio, schools in 1916, and served a hitch in the army before coming to Medina. Here, he was a biology teacher starting in 1923. He was then appointed principal of the Junior High for two years. In 1926, he became principal of grades seven through twelve, and in 1947 became superintendent of Medina City Schools.

A new Junior High building was established, a new addition to the elementary school was built, and a brand new Senior High building was constructed during Mr. Fenn's period of administration.

Football

On August 20th, 1957, 40 boys reported for football. This was an extremely low number and showed lack of enthusiasm, which is enough to give any Medina coach gray hair. Practicing twice daily, they came up with a football team of which Medina fans can well be proud. They might not have had the best team on the field at every game, but, they showed sportsmanship and fairplay throughout the season.

The 1958 MEDINIAN staff congratulates you on this account.

Homecoming

Alice White, Ed Gallatin, Pat Tiffner, Bob Swingle, Susie Twigg, Dick Simmons

Homecoming delayed; Bees lose; but what a glorious time we all had at the Homecoming Dance which followed the game.

Even though our football players were a little on the blue side of things after dropping the Homecoming game to Rocky River, they cheerfully paid homage to their Queen and her court. Not only did the royal court deserve praise but the Bees themselves, for keeping their courage, spirit, fight and hope alive in themselves through-out the gloomy season.

Along with the praise, congratulations, decorations, refreshments and regal ball, came the photos to keep in mind this wonderful time enjoyed by all.

Co-Captains Paul Bricker and Charles Fisher along with Varsity Coach Augie Rios.

The Medina High School basketeers are to be congratulated on their best season in the history of the school. With an even record of nine wins and nine losses, they break a record of eight wins in a single season's play.

Lacking adequate height for a championship team, our Bees put up a good, tough battle in each contest. Led by co-captain Paul Bricker, the conference scoring champion, Medina fans enjoyed every bit of the season, for there was less than one minute of dull basketball.

"Wait till next year," was the scream heard from many Medina fans; for almost the entire varsity team was composed of Juniors, plus the fact that the Junior Varsity compiled the best record of any J. V. team also — a record of thirteen wins and three losses.

Reserve Team

Bill Whitney, Jim Reese, Art Stockman, Greg Winter, Dan Stadnik, Jim Lance.
SECOND ROW: Coach Rios, Manager Arnold Ingraham, Jim Daso, Jerry Condren, Norm Goulding, Bill Gardner, Ron Popiel, Coach Scrivens.

Varsity

Jeanne Kubis, Jo Bushman, Pat Tiffner,
Judy Dye, Ales D'Amico

We admit that the photography could be better; but our cheerleaders are hard to beat. These close-order drill-girls work the varsity games and are masters of precision when it comes to leading cheers and performing their "whirling dervishes."

Together with the perspiring "junior partners" who work the reserve games, the cheerleaders plan and conduct the pep assemblies that mean so much to the teams and to the morale of the school.

Marching Band

Hundreds of breathless spectators were thrilled at the polished and spectacular performances of the Marching Band during football season. Did we say "breathless?" That's not quite correct, for you can see their breath and smoke in the picture above. It was so cold that the Drum Major and his Majorettes moved into the gymnasium for their picture.

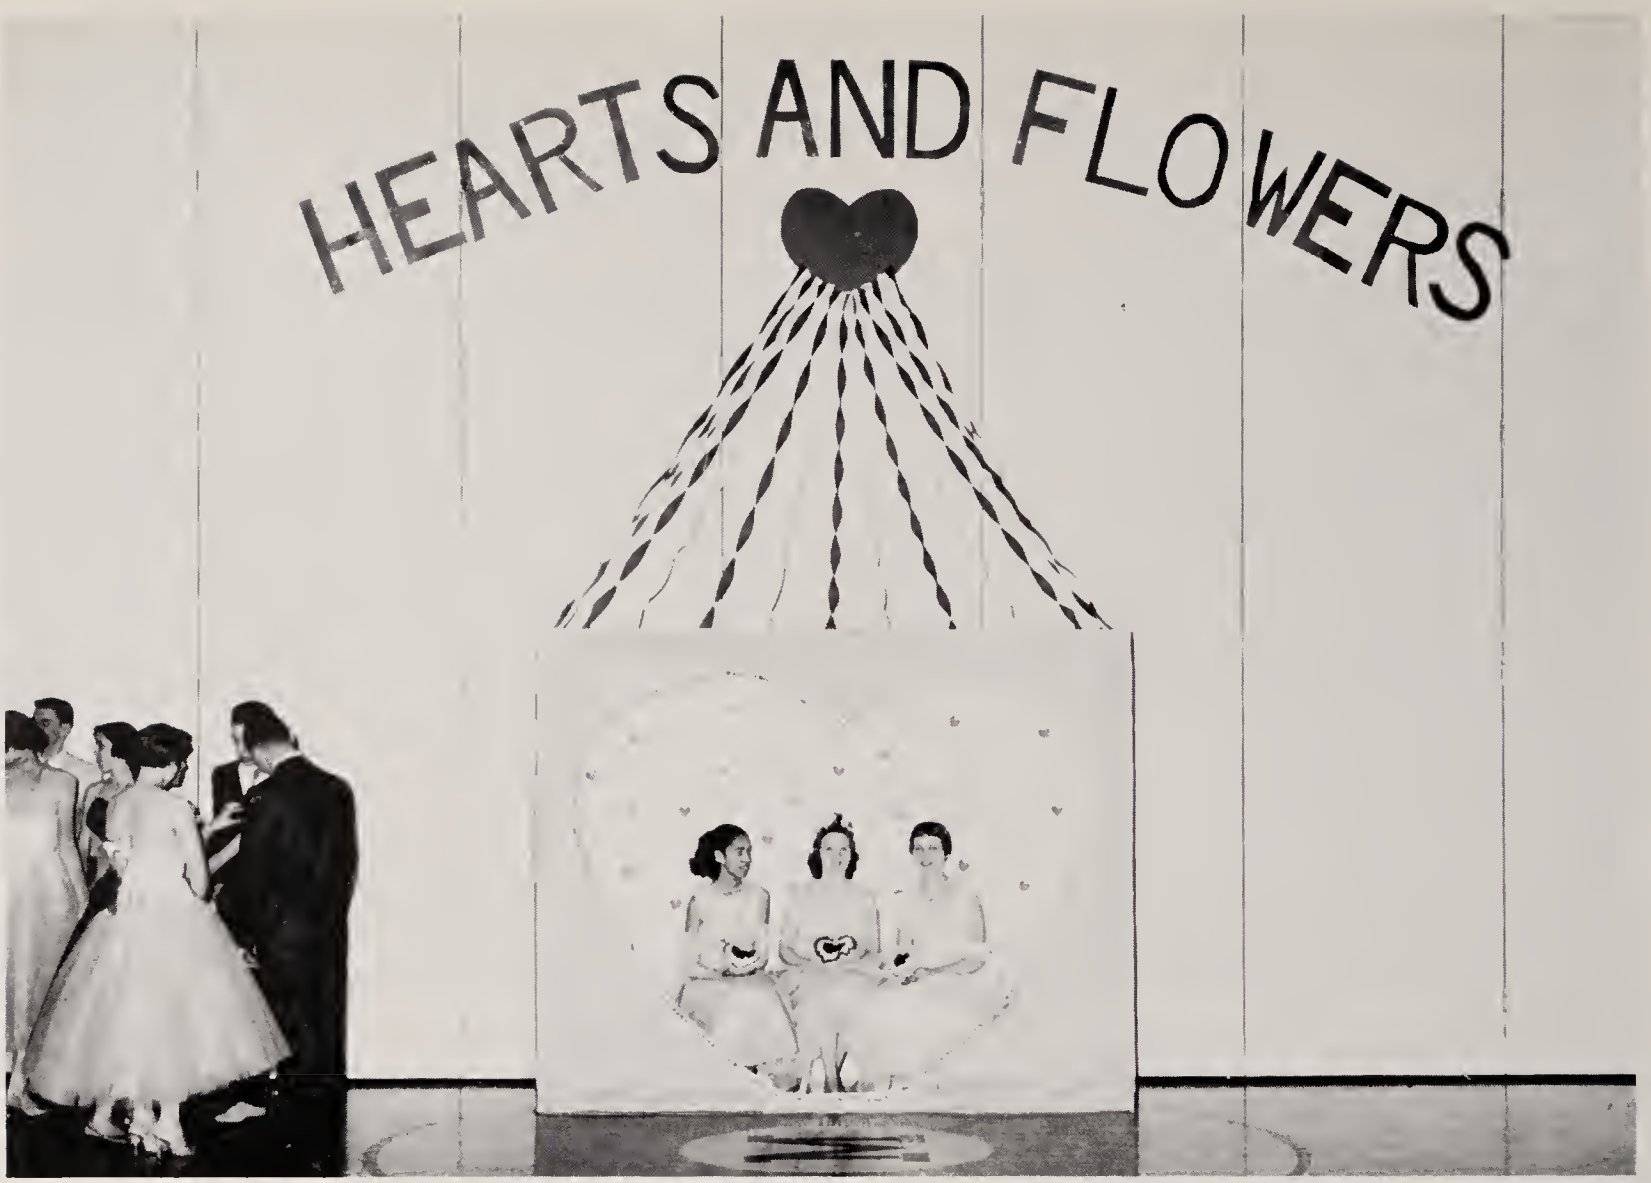
The purpose of the Y-teens is to help develop the spiritual, moral and social code of its members. Their large membership has been quite successful this year.

Y-teen meetings have been sparked by lively discussions of all sorts. Outstanding topics were "Hair Styling", "Boy and Girl Relations", and "Etiquette". With the assistance of their advisors, Mrs. Bolton and Mrs. Jeffers, worthy projects were conducted, and a gorgeous Sweetheart Formal was held.



Y-Teen Formal

Reigning over the Y-Teen Formal February 15, were Queen Sandy Siegfried with her attendants Brinca Jo Patton and Ann Gilsdorf. The Formal began at 9 o'clock and ended soon after 12 o'clock. The gym was decorated effectively by the theme "Hearts and Flowers". The Five Kings of Oberlin furnished the music for the formal occasion. Refreshments served were punch and cookies. At the intermission Sandy and her attendants were chosen and a Cake-Walk followed. Everyone that went enjoyed themselves immensely.

Al Varisco, Treasurer; Larry Blosser, Secretary; Jerry Reutter, President; Tom Plants, Sergeant-at-Arms; Paul Beresford, Vice-President; Willie Krosky, Chaplain

Through the eforts of some of the students in the school, the Hi-Y Club has been re-organized after having disbanned several years ago. The aim of the Hi-Y Club is to help the boys develop spiritually, mentally, and socially.

Math Club

Mr. Insprucker, Kathy Clement, Will Nichols, Leon Patry, Diane Wilson, Mr. Brewer
SECOND ROW: Greg Winter, Walt Chidsey, Arnold Ingraham, Jerry Condren, Jim Brown, Leroy Jones, Ken Kraus, Barb Veirs, Karen Simon

Jim Brown, Secretary; Will Nichols, President; Leon Party, Vice President

The newly organized Math Club was organized so that its members may gain a deeper interest and knowledge of math. They study and discuss various phases of math which are of interest to them.

Future Teachers of America

Pat Foley, Secretary; Rita Armbruster, Vice President; Cheryl Kirk, President; Carol Bailey, Treasurer

The F.T.A. Club tries to stimulate interest in the teaching profession. Various activities are planned which will enable the members to see if they are interested in teaching and, if so, what phase of it. This year the club has had opportunities to do student teaching. The members took care of the registration and acted as guides at the Audio Visual Conference held here for the teachers of Medina County.

Rosalie Kempf, Patsy Halliwell, Marian Steindorf, Carol Shaw, Virginia Lantry, Carol Bailey, Marcene Ewing
SECOND ROW: Cheryl Kirk, Ann Searles, Mary Searles, Peggy Black, Bette Blakslee, Mrs. Kellogg, Carol Bushman, Rita Armbruster, Ruth Fekelman, Pat Foley

Girls' Athletic Association

Marlene Mathews, Vice President; Bette Blakslee, Treasurer; Pat Tiffner, President; Brenda Hubal, Secretary

The G.A.A. Club has had many activities this year. They have playdays once a month. They also participate in other sports through out the year. The members presented a skit for a basketball assembly which was enjoyed by the student body.

Beverly Williams, Ronna Ruder, Jan Goodenberger, Marge Jones, Donna Hipp, Linda Gabelli, Brenda Hubal, Karen Plants, Karen Hoff, Judy Linder

SECOND ROW: Kay Leyda, Joyce Roose, Carolyn Coe, Madelyn Miskel, Judy Goodenberger, Marian Steindorf, Marilyn Smith, Barb Borowy, Barb Beck, Sandy Cole

The Future Farmers of America is a very active club. They must do projects during the year which are entered in the Medina County Fair, and they put on an annual public speaking contest.

This year, as usual, they had some outstanding accomplishments. One of these was Glenn Smith's outstanding achievement in winning the state Corn Growing Championship, and winning a free trip to Denver.

Girls' Leaders Club

Karen Simon, Ann Ellsworth, Ann Gilsdorf, Judy Quick, Kathy Clement, Norma Lehman, Miss Allen
SECOND ROW: Kay Whisler, Barb Standen, Marlene Mathews, Susy Twigg, Deanne Curtice, Linda Kolb, Sandy Siegfried, Janet Good, Tina Haight, Brinca Jo Patton
THIRD ROW: Cheryl Kirk, Bette Blakslee, Jani Fodor, Marianne Wassman, Barb Veirs, Judy Dye, Mary Davenport, Diane Wilson, Mary Searles

G.L.C. strives to do good will. They have numerous projects which help others such as collecting old clothes, making favors for the sick, and visiting the sick. Each G.L.C. member adopts a basketball boy and the club feeds the bays after the games. The members take turns ushering at football games and selling tickets at basketball games.

Cheryl Kirk, Secretary; Judy Quick, President; Mary Davenport, Chaplain; Brinca Jo Patton, Vice President; Kay Whisler, Treasurer

Class History

On the first day of school in 1954, we the senior class of 1958, began our four years of labor. Poised and confident, we elected our officers who were Ann Gilsdorf, president; Tom Holden, vice-president; Charles Hood, secretary-treasurer; and Scott Smith, student council representative. We sold refreshments after home football games and made a large profit, $3.25. We also collected tax stamps and change in home-rooms, and presented a "This is your life" assembly, to the student body.

The sophomore year came rolling in, in 1955, and we elected Marcine Ewing, president; Jani Fodor, vice-president; Janet Good, secretary-treasurer; and Tom Holden, student council representative. Our goal was to make money for our senior trip to New York. We had bake sales, sold return address stickers for envelopes, tickets for a movie at the Medina Theatre, and ordered our class rings. "Operation Frog" was a success, or was it?

We were the first juniors to attend school in the new Senior High School building and we brought in our class's first boy president, Butch Spitzer, and his cabinet; Tom Holden, vice-president; Judy Dye, secretary-treasurer; and Diane Wilson, student council representative. Mum corsages were sold at Homecoming as is customary for junior classes, a pancake supper was held in October, and class jackets were ordered before Christmas. A workday and car-wash was held April 27th, at which each class member credited his earnings to his individual account for his New York trip. Our Class was in charge of selling refreshments at the home basketball games, dances, and any other school function. The executive committee edited our class newspaper "The Junior Flash". This paper informed the class about projects and where they stood in their individual earnings. The year ended with a bang-up picnic at Whipps Ledges on May 29th with swimming, eating, and the usual tomfoolery. Our treasury now had about $2,200.00.

The Senior class elected as officers, Diane Wilson, president; Norm Merhaut, vice-president; Susie Twigg, secretary; Janet Good, treasurer; and Ann Gilsdorf, student council representative. The student body elected Tom Holden, student council president. The class decided to have a senior council made up of an elected representative from each home-room. They were Mary Davenport, Marcene Ewing, Marlene Mathews, and Dick Simmons. In September the first edition of the "Senior Flash" came out. One of our projects was stuffing and delivering pamphlets for the Old Phoenix National Bank's 100th Anniversary. For the Homecoming parade, we designed and built a float with the title "Swinging On A Star" on which rode the queen, Pat Tiffner, and attendants, Susie Twigg and Alice White. We held a bake sale, two ham dinners, and sold Christmas cards and candy. One of our goals, Senior Class trip to New York, April 13 - 19th, came true. The other goal, commencement, is also coming true and all those who are worthy will receive a diploma.

We are grateful to all who have helped us achieve our goal — particularly our advisors, Mrs. Schafer, Mrs. Hergenrader, Mrs. Neptune, and Mr. Houston.

Senior Will

We, the class of 1958, Medina Senior High School, Medina County, Medina, Ohio, being of sound minds and memories and in full possession of our mental faculties, do hereby make our last will and testament.

We jointly bequeath to the faculty all of our surplus knowledge to be distributed equally among them.

To the Juniors we will the elite and honored title of "seniors."
To the Sophomores we will our New York trip.

We severally make our wills as follows:

Janice Allen: I will to any deserving person the ability to get along well with Mr. Haas.

Rita Armbruster: I will, for a slight price, all my old printed English test papers to any Junior willing to pay for them.

Norman Arters: I will to Mrs. Neptune the very first rocket ship so she may go to her native planet, Neptune.

Linton Auble: I will my four years of high school to whoever wants them.

Hyel Bagley: I will my strong athletic ankles to Robert Salisbury

Ben Baldwin: I will to Anne Lilley my size 13 shoes.

Shirley Baxter: I will my shorthand speed to Jeanie Barr.

Nancy Belak: I will to Tom Tubbs my ability to get out of class all day for the F.F.A. speaking contest. Good luck, Tom!

Bill Berberick: I will nothing because I brought nothing with me and I am leaving with nothing.

Paul Beresford! I will the "Bomb" and my ability to write love letters to Randy Roeper.

Larry Blewitt: I will my ability to say little but to get into much trouble from saying it to anyone who deserves it.

Larry Blosser: I will my ability to drive my parents' car to school everyday to the Lafayette Road Kids.

Don Bower: I will to Don Alden my straight pipes because he likes to make noise.

Judy Brooks: I will all the fun I had in my senior year to Jim Auker.

Myrtle Brown: I will nothing because I have nothing to spare.

Margaret Carter: I will my dimples to Will Nichols, who takes life so seriously.

Robert Caskey: I will to Anne Lilley my ability to get along with Mr. Dailey.

Roger Casto: I will to "Augie" Rios my jokes.

Terry Chirdon: I will my ability to stay in school to Dick Freese.

Neva Cogar: I will my ability to get along with the teachers, and my fun in my senior year to any worthy Junior. Also, to Judie Linder my success in Mr. Starkey's photography class.

Naomi Daugherty: I will my natural blond hair to Nancy Smith.

Mary Davenport: I will to Dana Easton my little red wagon, plus batteries, to carry him to school next year.

Charles Davis: I will my ability to get away from cops to Tom Tubbs.

Dick Dirham: I will my ability to argue with Mr. Salisbury to Jim Auker and hope he can handle it.

Frank Dorsey: I will my ability to stay out of trouble to anyone who needs it.

Verjean Duke: I will my chair in choir to Carol Shaw who I know will fit it quite well.

Sid Dunkle: I will my math ability to anyone who gets stuck with it.

Judy Dye: I will all the fun I have had in cheering to next year's cheerleaders.

Karen Eaken: I will my old D. A. to any girl whose boy-friend will like it.

Marcene Ewing: I will my ability to talk in study halls and to get away with it to Peggy Cogar, who has been doing a fine job so far.

Ruth Fekelman: I will all my used shorthand notebooks, typing paper, erasers, and broken pen points to any future short-hand student. I also will my ability to keep quiet to all those who need it.

Bonnie Felver: I will my job in the cafeteria to any Junior girl with the ability to make as many errors as I did.

Charles Fisher: I will my formula for making moonshine to Mr. Scrivens.

Janice Fodor: I will my position as head-majorette to some girl who likes twirling as much as I do.

Patrica Foley: I will my four years in high school to anyone who wants them.

Ed Gallatin: I will to Brenda Hubal my shoulder pads and No. 42 and also my shot put.

Fred Gern: I will my teachers to anyone that wants them; and good luck to whoever gets them (they will need it!).

Brenda Gilbert: I will my seat in English class to anyone who wants it.

Ann Gilsdorf: I will my sense of humor to Mr. Houston and the fun I've had through my high school years to every high school student.

Janet Good: I will all the good times I've had in my senior year to Jeanne Barr.

Nancy Gregory: I will my ability to get along with the teachers and not to have a southern accent to Johnnie Sue Gregory.

Sue Gregory: I will my southern accent to Mrs. Teagarden.

Christina Haight: I will to Mr. Rios my ability to get out of those "vicious cycles" he is always mentioning.

Gloria Hartzell: I will my good times and all the friends I have and love to someone who is lonely and in need of friends and good times.

Charleen Hasek: I will all my freckles to Carol Popiel; and may she enjoy them as much as I haven't!

Colleen Hill: I will to my sister, Joan, anything I can't use anymore.

Jean Hinckley! I will all the fun and headaches I've had in high school to Brenda Hubal.

Tom Hodges: I will my ability to be late to anyone who is always early.

Jerry Hoffman: I will my ability to grow a mustache to Jim Schrier.

Tom Holden: I will my seats in Mr. Rios' classes to anyone who can put up with him for three periods a day.

David Holt: I will my seat in civics class to Bill Whitney.

Charles Hood: I will my ability to keep a girl to Jim Auker.

Cheryl Johnson: I will to Mrs. Hergenrader no more left-handed girls in shorthand class.

Senior Will

Janet Johnson: I will my choir chair to my sister, Grace, and hope she will have as much fun as I did.

Tom Kasel: I will my ability to give excuses to Mr. Haas to anyone who needs it.

Donna Kennedy: I will my troubles to anyone who wants them.

Cheryl Kirk: I will my ability to argue with teachers to anyone who dares to take it.

Ed Klein: I will to Al Varisco all the fun I have had.

Joan Koba: I will my position as cashier in the cafeteria to Mr. Scrivens, so he can get his lunches cheaper!

Ken Kraus: I will my math interest to Diane Flynn and my ability to get along with Mr. Dague to anyone who might be able to use it.

Willie Krosky: I will all my questionable jokes to Robert Salisbury.

Francis Kunkel: I will my ability to change the subject which the teacher is talking about to anyone.

Jim Luster: I will nothing to no one.

Bill Lindemann: I will a broken test tube to anyone who wants it.

Jim Linder: I will my ability to stay out of the teacher's hair and be quiet in class to my sister — she needs it!

Bill Maple: I will all the fun and exclamations of disgust from R. S. in the baritone section to Red Leeds. I also will all the enduring, never faltering, undivided days of faithfulness of the past year to Sam.

Marlene Mathews: I will to Mrs. Neptune that part of my heart which shall always be filled with sunshine for her. Also, to Mrs. Rios my understanding sympathy; and may her next husband be better, younger, and slimmer Karl Matulin: I will all my talents and abilities at everything to my friends in the Junior and Sophomore classes. May my ability to attract girls help them through their lives.

Mary Lou Maupin: I will all the teasing I've had about my name to my sister in her future years of high school.

Tom Maupin: I will my ability to work hard at my school work and to attend school regularly to anyone who wants it.

Senior Class of 1958

We hereunto set our hond this first day of June, 1958.

Class Prophecy

by

PAT FOLEY and MARY SEARLES

The other day the two of us decided to go on a shopping spree in Cleveland. We left our husbands to take care of the children and neglected our household duties to spend a carefree day.

Before leaving, we stopped for a quick cup of coffee at Shirley Potter's Restaurant. We hadn't been seated more than a few minutes when in walked Judy Quick and Karen Simon who had been busy becoming career girls. We had only a few minutes to chat when the bus pulled in and we dashed off. Upon handing our tickets to the driver we discovered that he was Morris Brown. As we sat in the bus we began to reminisce and talk of the good old days of the class of '58. Many of the girls had married and moved away. It had been a long time since we had seen Neva Cogar, Naomi Daugherty, Sue Gregory, Jean Hinckley, Nancy Belak, and Ruth Fekelman. As the bus driver speeded along we heard a siren and we came to a stop at the request of a State Highway Patrol. To our amazement, he was Jerry Reutter; and his assistant officer was Larry Blosser. After receiving the ticket we proceded on to Cleveland at a slower pace.

As we neared Cleveland we went by the country club where we saw Barb Standen and Tina Haight riding their horses by the side of the road. Not far from the country club we passed the training quarters of Tom Kasel, famous heavy weight boxer and his trainer, Ron Moewe. We had heard that they rented the quarters from a rich multi-millionaire oil typhoon, Scott Smith.

Suddenly the engine of the bus conked out and we limped into a nearby service station. Just as we pulled in, a car pulled out and we discovered it was Charlie Fisher and his wife Karen (Eaken) with an Indiana license plate. The station attendant, Bill Bessmer, came bustling out to see what was the matter and Jim Linder, his mechanic, began to look over the bus.

After having the bus fixed, we continued to pick up a few more passengers. Linton Auble and Zeke Arters, now famous comedians, got on the bus. They told us that they had just seen a few of our classmates when they had been in Washington D. C. They had seen Bill Lindeman and Richard Nye who were in the House of Representatives. They had also seen Pete Schrier and Dick Simmons who were co-owners of a detective agency. Barb Veirs was doing very well as a famous lawyer in the Supreme Court and Marlene Mathews had become quite well known as an ambassador to Russia.

Five minutes later we pulled into the Cleveland bus station. Feeling worn out from our exhausting bus trip, we went into the powder room to refresh ourselves. To our astonishment we discovered that Teresa Wightman was the matron. After talking to her, we decided to go to a restaurant to eat lunch.

We found out the owner of the restaurant happened to be our former classmate, Roger Casto, and his chief cook was Dave Rodgers. The restaurant was beautifully designed with a fancy bar at one end of the restaurant. Guess who the bar tender was? It was Larry Blewitt. We rushed over to talk to Larry and found that he had been down to South America. He told us that he had seen Dave Smelzer in Brazil at the missionary station. Sid Dunkle also was living there and owned a huge sugar plantation.

After talking to Larry, we sat down at a table and were waited on by Tom Maupin. Upon seeing Tom we asked him where his twin sister, Mary Lou, was. He informed us that Mary Lou was a home economist now. While eating our meal, the lights dimmed down and Mary Davenport appeared in front of the mike and began to sing a beautiful love song. After her number the chorus line came strutting onto the stage doing a can-can number. Some of the girls, we discovered, were our classmates. They were Pat Thomas, Judy Tripp, Joan Koba, and Susie Twigg.

After the show we hurried over to Halle's to do some shopping. We both were interested in some cosmetics. The girl that waited on us was Myrtle Brown. Then we went up to the fifth floor to look at coats. There we saw Edna Sharpless looking at a coat. She told us that just a few minutes ago she had seen Chuck Hood and Judy Brooks in the toy shop looking for toys for their children. That reminded us that we should go to the toy department and get our children some little gifts. We couldn't seem to find the toy department, so, we asked the floor walker; and lo and behold, it was Karl Matulin. We got on the elevator and there was Loretha Williams, the elevator operator.

We finally reached the toy department when we discovered Ann Gilsdorf who was the sales lady. After purchasing the toys, we decided to go to the tea room. Mary Ellen Takacs was the hostess and she showed us to a table. Linda Roshon waited on us. Then the style show began. The designer of the clothes modeled was Colleen Hill and she narrated the show. Two of the models were Jani Fodor and Alice White, former classmates. While watching the show a gypsy tea leaf reader came around to read our tea leaves. To our surprise it was Norma Snyder.

After she told us our fortune, we continued on our way. We crossed the street and passed the Cleveland Trust Bank, and Elbert Spitzer's name was imprinted in gold as president and the two vice-presidents were Diane Wilson and Cheryl Kirk.

As we continued on our way, we went into a small music shop owned by Bill Maple and Nancy Quillen. After purchasing a record, we bumped into Ken Kraus who was taking the day off from his job as professor of mathematics at Kent State.

We went down to the Cleveland Public Library to pay for a lost book and discovered that Sylvia Taylor and Rita Armbuster were librarians. In another branch of the library, we found Pat Tiffner and Janice Allen who had jobs as secretaries.

Becoming tired of our long day we decided to catch the next bus home. Just then the factories were letting out and the bus became quite crowded. Some of the workers were from our class of '58'. They were Hyel Bagley, Willie Krosky, Tom Plants, Frances Kunkel, Bill Berberick, Paul Beresford, Bob Caskey, Charles Davis, Dick Seamon, Dick Dirham, John Eller, Fred Gern, Ken Miller, Dave Holt, Karl Norris, and Eddie Klein.

We heard that a lot of the girls had obtained office jobs and various other jobs in Cleveland as part time workers. Shirley Baxter, Margaret Carter, Verjean Duke, Evelyn Smith, Judy Dye, Barb Wass, Charleen Hasek, Janet Johnson, Doris Smith, and Delores Meincke are just a few Boy, those girls sure are ambitious to be a housewife and have a career.

As we began the long ride home, Marcene Ewing sat down beside us. It had been a long time since we had seen her because she had been living in Arizona. She had just had her hair done and it looked lovely. She told us Linda Taggart had done it at her beauty shop on the outskirts of Cleveland. Marcene also told us that Dennie Richardson and John Miller were intending to make the Air Force their life career.

We opened the newspaper and saw on the front page that Ed Gallatin had won the Mr. Universe title. We also read a long list of people who had volunteered to go to the moon in the U. S. rocket, MOONSHINE. Some of the names looked very familiar. Why, of course, some of them were our classmates Ben Baldwin, Nancy Gregory, Bonnie Felver, Janet Good, Gloria Hartzell, Brenda Ribelin, Terry Chirdon and Frank Dorsey.

We also read in the paper that Norm Merhaut had received his fifteen-year pin for outstanding leadership as a naval officer.

We sure were glad when we reached the bus station. Before going home we stopped off to pick up our dresses from Brinca Jo Patton's Dressmaking Shop.

That evening Sandy Siegfried and her husband came over to the party that we were invited to at Tom Holden's apartment. Tom entertained us with his dramatic ability. After telling Tom and Sandy about all the people we had seen that day, we decided that it would be a good idea to have a fifteen year reunion of our class of '58'.

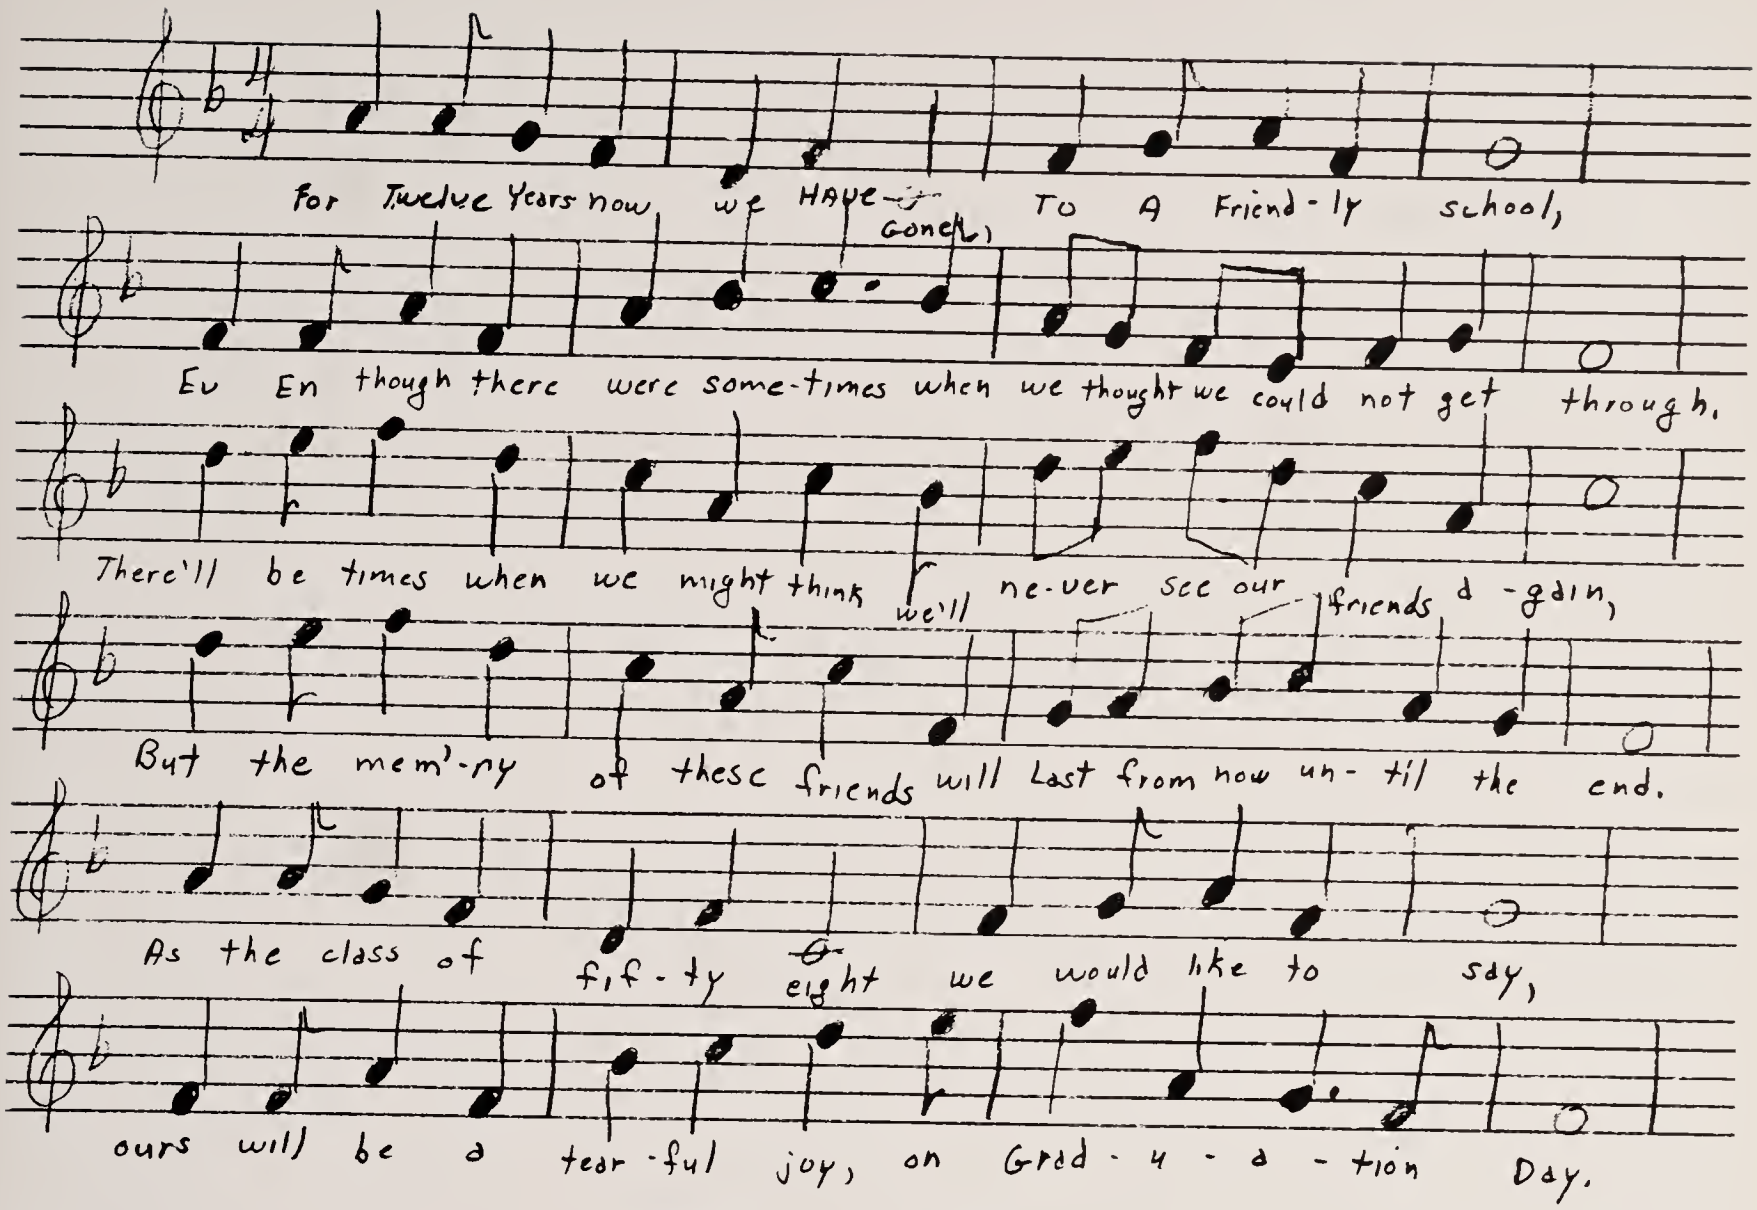
Class Song



For Twelve Years now we HAVE (GONE) To A Friend-ly school,
Ev En though there were some-times when we thought we could not get through.
There'll be times when we might think we'll ne-ver see our friends a-gain,
But the mem'-ry of these friends will Last from now un-til the end.
As the class of fif-ty eight we would like to say, ours will be a tear-ful joy, on Grad-u-a-tion Day.

Class Poem

Our High School days are done;
The "Ship of '58"
Is sailing at the break of dawn
So, it will not be late.

Our cargo memories,
We'll sail the seven seas;
The crew may part, but in its heart
Each sailor shares in these.

We've stayed with you the while
By training, test and trial
You've taught us scorn for fiercest storm;
And thus — a tear, a smile.

Now breeze beckon us:
They bring that wander lust
That makes us sigh but bide us try
As all who conquer must.

Our Lord and Pilot, ay,
Will guard and guide the way
You've helped us chart; but now we part
To meet up there someday.

Our port we love you well;
We love each surging swell;
But now tis dawn; we must be gone.
Medina High Farewell.

One Coke Coming Up,

is Kay Whisler's bubbling solution to Bob Casky's problem of beating the heat.

That's not "Whisler's Mother" in the background. She's Ronna Ruder—and is she beat! (from selling Cokes at the Junior Concession stand.) She'll have a Coke, too, as soon as Jeanne Kubis reaches that glass.

How about you? Wanna Coke?
